

GEORGETOWN SCHEDULES CINCINNATI SHAW VISITS MUSCLE EXPERT

HILLTOP BOOKS CINCINNATI FOR GRIDIRON GAME

Intersectional Contest Billed for Oct. 14 to Feature Ambitious Schedule Next Season.

THE Georgetown football schedule for 1922 is one of the most ambitious the Hilltoppers have had in recent years. It includes one intersectional game, the University of Cincinnati coming to Washington on October 14. This year Cincinnati threw a fright into the Pittsburgh crowd. The Panthers were forced to the limit to win, 21 to 14, and for a while it looked as though the Redlanders might triumph. They will have a veteran aggregation next fall and may be counted on to give the Hilltoppers a tough fight.

Other home games include Lebanon Valley, Oct. 7; Holy Cross, Nov. 4; Bucknell, Nov. 18, and George Washington on Thanksgiving Day. The annual Fordham game, which proved such an attraction this year, may again be played in Washington. The out-of-town games definitely scheduled are Georgia Tech in Atlanta on Nov. 11 and Boston College in Boston on Nov. 25.

Maryland and Georgetown will probably play at some time. This season's record indicates any sort of equality. If one or the other has too much of an admitted advantage, the game will not be played. Plans are under way to have Georgetown and Notre Dame play for charity in New York under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. A new departure in athletics at Georgetown will be seen next year when the one-year residence rule will go into effect. Beginning next fall, freshmen will not be permitted to represent the university. They will have organizations of their own in all branches of sport.

Navy Loses Its First Big Soccer Contest

ANAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 10.—Though losing 4-0 to the University of Pennsylvania by four goals to none, the Naval Academy twelve pleased its friends by the fine game it exhibited against last year's intercollegiate champions today. The game was the first game against a big college team the Midshipmen have ever played.

Pennsylvania had only a slight advantage in team play and none at all in speed and stamina but in dribbling and other features the visitors were more expert. Amelia, Blair, Wilder and Miller did particularly good work along these lines. The score of the first half was the goal kicked by McElroy from scrimmage after twenty minutes of play. While Pennsylvania kept the ball in the center of the field, the Navy made a number of fierce thrusts and endangered the visitors' goal more than once.

Penn lost some opportunities of scoring through poor kicks. In the second half Partridge led with a field goal for Penn and Baker followed by kicking goal for Navy on a penalty kick. Blair and Miller scored for Penn later in the period. The summary follows:

Naval Academy, 0; University of Pennsylvania, 4.
